

Bereavement services and COVID-19: Resources

Since 19 March 2020, the National Bereavement Alliance and Childhood Bereavement Network have been running weekly webinars for bereavement services managers and practitioners in the UK to help them respond to the coronavirus outbreak. Colleagues are welcome to register for these webinars (now monthly) here.

This document includes links to some of the materials and resources shared in the webinars, by speakers and by participants via the chat box. We are not endorsing these materials, but sharing for the benefit of those working in the field at this very challenging time. This document was last updated on 18 November 2020.
